

Aggie Integrations

How Aggie fits into your existing technology stack

Standalone by Design

Aggie does not need to be integrated into your point-of-sale (POS) system to function. Aggie operates as a fully standalone, AI-powered social media automation platform — it runs independently of whatever POS or in-store software you already use, so there is no requirement to connect the two systems for Aggie to deliver value.

CRM Compatibility

Where Aggie does connect is on the customer relationship side. Aggie integrates with most major CRM platforms, including:

- HubSpot
- Zoho CRM

This allows customer, lead, and engagement data generated through Aggie's social automation to flow into the CRM your team already relies on for follow-up, reporting, and pipeline management — without requiring a POS-level integration.

Integrations

Aggie is a standalone platform — no POS integration required. It is compatible with leading CRM systems such as HubSpot and Zoho, allowing seamless data flow for lead and customer management alongside your existing tools.

At a Glance

Category	Integration Requirement
POS Systems	Not required — Aggie runs as a standalone platform
CRM Platforms	Compatible — including HubSpot and Zoho
Setup	No POS connection needed to launch or operate Aggie